Overview

Dykema’s antitrust and trade regulation team has the experience necessary to assist clients in preventing and addressing the full spectrum of potential antitrust and trade regulation issues. Composed of an interdisciplinary team of lawyers from our litigation, corporate, government policy, and intellectual property groups, we have the resources and expertise necessary to solve complex issues relating to the regulation of competition and trade.

We have successfully represented clients in a wide range of arenas, including regulatory, arbitration, and investigatory proceedings, as well as in state and federal courts throughout the United States. We have litigated a number of precedent-setting cases in state and federal trial and appellate courts involving issues of international jurisdiction, monopolization, mergers and restraints of trade.

Our attorneys have held positions with the U.S. Department of Justice, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), and in state and national professional associations. Our team includes the current Chair and two past Chairs of the State Bar of Michigan Antitrust, Franchising and Trade Regulation Section as well as a recent United States Supreme Court law clerk. We routinely interact with state and federal regulators on matters involving investigations and adversarial agency proceedings. Our experience within the regulatory environment provides an enhanced perspective, benefiting our clients through more effective regulatory negotiations, litigation tactics and strategic advice. Our broad wealth of experience includes structuring transactions, business relationships, sales practices, pricing practices and internal processes to avoid antitrust and trade regulation problems.

We have also been instrumental in the formulation and implementation of important rules, policies and legislation, including the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, the Michigan Franchise Investment Law, and the Michigan Trade Secrets Act.

As a result of the collective experience of the team, the Firm is proud to be named the 2019 winner of the "Litigation of the Year – Cartel Defense" award by Global Competition Review.

Industry Focus

We have advised clients throughout the world in matters in a number of industries, including automotive, securities, finance, health care, medical devices, computer software and hardware, defense, home appliances, food and beverages, chemical manufacturing, sporting goods, transportation, energy, and a wide variety of other products and services.

The Dykema antitrust and trade regulation team is a team of choice for the automotive and manufacturing industries. We have represented automotive OEMs, Tier 1 and 2 suppliers and aftermarket parts manufacturers in the gamut of antitrust and trade regulation issues, including those associated with pricing, joint ventures, class action lawsuits, and dealer terminations. We also represent a number of suppliers involved in the recent criminal grand jury investigation into the automobile industry by the U.S. Department of Justice, European Union and other... regulators—the most expansive investigation in history—and in the related multi-district class action cases.
