Ashley Shapiro Bunyard is an associate in Dykema's Austin office. Ashley is a member of the firm's Commercial Litigation group, and her practice encompasses a wide array of corporate matters in both state and federal court.

Ashley primarily represents insurance clients in first-party litigation, as well as health care providers in commercial disputes. She also has experience representing corporate clients in matters including breach of contract, misappropriation of trade secrets, breach of fiduciary duties, and non-compliance with restrictive covenants.

Ashley graduated from the University of Oklahoma College of Law in 2015, where she was actively involved in moot court, a member of the Luther Bohanon Inn of Court, and worked as a judicial extern for the Honorable Justice Noma Gurich of the Oklahoma Supreme Court.
