The State of Data Breach Litigation and How to Avoid It

February 21, 2017

Join Dykema's panel of privacy, data security and information asset management law experts for an in-depth discussion regarding the current state of data breach litigation and strategies to help your company mitigate risk. Topics include trends in data breach enforcement and litigation, how to develop meaningful privacy and cybersecurity policies to help prevent breaches (and effectively respond to them if they happen) and key issues on regulators' radars.
