Mark Walker Quoted in Law360 Story on Conclusion of El Paso Lawsuit

December 8, 2016

Mark Walker, Managing Member of Dykema's El Paso office and Member of the Firm's Litigation Department, was quoted in the Law360 article, "Pastor Can't Sue El Paso For Blocking Political Speech."

The story announces the reversal of a trial court opinion in a five-year old suit against the City of El Paso and its former mayor, who was represented by Walker. The case was brought by a local church opposed to the City's domestic partners' benefits policy. In his comments, Walker praised the Eighth Court of Appeals for its decision.
