

News & Insights

Brendan Cahill Considers Market Appeal of Autonomous Vehicle Technology in Automotive News

April 29, 2017

Brendan J. Cahill, Bloomfield Hills-based member in Dykema's Corporate Finance practice and director of the firm's Automotive Industry group, was quoted extensively in the Automotive News report, "Self-Driving Technology Could Boost Market for Mergers and Acquisitions."

Noting a recent trend among auto and manufacturing industries of partnering with self-driving technology developers, Cahill explains that companies anticipating the autonomous vehicle revolution hope to gain an edge by merging with existing tech startups.

The full article may be found here.

Attorneys

Brendan J. Cahill

Practice Areas

Corporate Finance

Mergers & Acquisitions

Industries

Automotive Corporate and Compliance

Automotive Industry Group

Mobility and Advanced Transportation Team