Allan Gabriel Discusses 3D-Printed Firearms with Legaltech News

January 11, 2016

Allan Gabriel, Los Angeles-based member and Director of Dykema's Intellectual Property and Intellectual Property Litigation Department, was quoted at length in the Legaltech News article, "Debate Over Regulating 3D Printed Firearms Rages On."

Among his comments, Gabriel expresses doubt that the manufacture of polymer and ceramic guns by means of 3D printers can easily be regulated, and reminds us that the law evolves much more slowly than technology.
