

News & Insights

Van Lindberg Wary of Possible SCOTUS Review of Java Case in Bloomberg Law

January 28, 2019

Van Lindberg, San Antonio-based member in Dykema's Intellectual Property practice group, was quoted in the Bloomberg Law article, "Google's Supreme Court Bid Attacks Oracle's $8.8B Copyright Win."

Lindberg ponders the consequences for software developers should the U.S. Supreme Court affirm two lower courts' decisions that Google's use of the Java API to create its Android operating system infringed on fair use.

Bloomberg Law subscribers may read the full article here.

Attorneys

Van Lindberg

Practice Areas

Intellectual Property

Intellectual Property Litigation