Thomas Vaughn Quoted in Law360 Article

November 16, 2014

Thomas S. Vaughn, Detroit-based member of Dykema's Corporate Finance practice whose practice focuses on mergers and acquisitions, was quoted in the Law360 article, "Why Big-Ticket Deal Failures Don't Spell Trouble For M&A."

In the article, Vaughn discusses how the impact of the inversion rule overhaul, stating, "that certainly will have some impact on the M&A market, but it's a fundamentally much stronger market than that and much broader-based than that. The loss of some future tax-inversion deals that otherwise would have gotten done will not impact deal activity in a way that any of us will really notice at the end of the day."
