Dykema opened its Minneapolis office, its 12th nationwide, in January, 2013. The expansion to Minneapolis is a logical one, as the city is one of the most dynamic and fast-growing business communities in the Midwest. Home to 19 of the Fortune 500 corporations and several of the world's largest private companies, and a major center for medical devices, high-technology industries, financial service institutions and energy providers—all realms served by Dykema's sophisticated practices—Minneapolis provides opportunity for the Firm to leverage its national platform and exemplary client service skills in such realms as litigation, intellectual property, consumer financial services, energy and electric distribution, infrastructure finance and corporate law.
