Christopher Kratovil Elected to Fellows of the Texas Bar Foundation

May 20, 2015

Dykema, a leading national law firm, announced today that Christopher Kratovil has been elected to membership in the Fellows of the Texas Bar Foundation.

Fellows of the Texas Bar Foundation are selected for their outstanding professional achievements and demonstrated commitment to the improvement of the justice system throughout the state of Texas. Annually, just one-third of one percent of Texas State Bar members are invited to become Fellows.

Kratovil is a Member of Dykema's Litigation practice in the Dallas office. His practice focuses on appellate matters with a particular concentration on matters in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit and in the Texas courts of appeals. Kratovil represents clients in complex commercial disputes before tribunals ranging from small town Texas trial courts to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In addition to his extensive appellate work, Kratovil handles case dispositive briefing and argument, jury charges, complex motions, research intensive legal issues and error preservation in the trial courts. He is the author of several high-profile amicus curiae briefs, including one on behalf of United States Senator John Cornyn.

The Texas Bar Foundation is the largest charitably-funded bar foundation in the country. Founded in 1965 by lawyers determined to assist the public and improve the profession of law, the Texas Bar Foundation has maintained its mission of using the financial contributions of its membership to build a strong justice system for all Texans.
