National Kidney Foundation of Michigan Names Jin Koh as New Board Chair

July 6, 2016

The National Kidney Foundation of Michigan (NKFM) has elected Jin-Kyu Koh as Chairman of the Board. Koh joined the Board in 2011 where he served as Secretary for two years, then Vice Chair until being elected Chairman in June 2016. He replaces long time NKFM volunteer and chairman for the past four years, Andy Boschma.

“We’re looking forward to having Jin as our Chairman of the Board of Directors for the next two years. He brings an outstanding set of skills to the board and we’re lucky to have him in this volunteer leadership role,” said NKFM President & CEO, Dan Carney.

Koh is Director of Dykema's Business Services Department and the Leader of the Korean Business Team. He is a former Office Managing Member of the Detroit office and the former Leader of the Corporate Finance Practice Group. He has extensive experience in mergers and acquisitions of both public and private companies and is a frequent speaker and writer on corporate finance matters, including mergers and acquisitions, venture capital financings, private placements, cross-border transactions, corporate governance and business ethics.

About the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan

The mission of the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan is to prevent kidney disease and improve the quality of life for those living with it. The NKFM is widely known for providing more programs and services to more people than any other region or state.
