“Redrawing Chevron Deference”

July 2014

Metropolitan Corporate Counsel

Two Minneapolis-based Dykema attorneys—David Graham, a commercial trial lawyer in the Firm’s Products and Professional Liability Practice Group; and Kristina Kaluza, a lawyer in the Business Litigation Group—co-authored an article (“Redrawing Chevron Deference”) that appears in the July/August 2014 issue of Metropolitan Corporate Counsel magazine. This publication, distributed 11 times each year, is read by more than 30,000 top-tier executives (chief legal officers, general counsel) in the law departments of major U.S. companies.
