

Resources

“Preparing for the In-House to Law Firm Transition”

July/August 2014

ACC Docket

Michael Wippler, Office Managing Member of Dykema’s Los Angeles Office, and Sam Miller, Los Angeles-based senior counsel in the Firm’s Corporate Finance Practice Group, co-authored an article titled “Preparing for the In-House to Law Firm Transition,” which appears in the July/August 2014 issue of ACC Docket.

In the article, Wippler and Miller, along with fellow co-author Mark Goldzweig, executive director of legal affairs and associate general counsel at Kia Motors America, Inc., give insight into the reasons why in-house lawyers return to law firms and suggest actions for in-house lawyers to take while contemplating a return to a firm, as well as on how to find the right job and what to do once hired.

To view the article in its entirety, click here.

Attorneys

Michael P. Wippler

Practice Areas

Business Services