

Resources

“International Distribution Relationships: Commercial and Legal Perspectives”

February 18, 2017

Texas CEO Magazine

William J. Kohler, Detroit-based senior counsel in Dykema’s Corporate Finance Practice Group and co-leader of the firm’s Autonomous and Connected Vehicle team, has written “International Distribution Relationships: Commercial and Legal Perspectives” for Texas CEO Magazine, in which he describes the roles of principals and distributors engaged in international commerce, certain applicable conventions, and makes recommendations for the legal terms of such agreements.

The full article may be read here.

Practice Areas

Corporate Finance

Industries

Automotive Industry Group

Mobility and Advanced Transportation Team