Ashley R. Fickel, Los-Angeles based member in Dykema's Financial Services Litigation practice group was invited by Law360 to write about the upcoming elimination of certain consumer protections contained in the California Homeowner Bill of Rights for its Expert Analysis column.

In his article, "What's Next After Calif. Homeowner Bill Of Rights Sunsets," Fickel explains the upcoming changes affecting the HBOR and advises mortgage servicers to continue to protect themselves from possible lawsuits in spite of the relaxation of the current rules.
