"Blurred Lines"

Spring 2019

IPPro Magazine

Xianghui (Sean) Huang, San Antonio-based attorney in Dykema's Intellectual Property practice group, is the author of "Blurred Lines," which was published by IPPro Magazine. In the article, he discusses the legal difficulties of asserting the innovative characteristics of new inventions in an age of technological cross-pollination.

The full IPPro Magazine article will be found in Special Issue 015 on page 34.
